

Please don't take away one of the few radio stations that my family can listen to. K-LOVE is wholesome and commercial-free programming. These are very important considerations with children listening. Kids are already bombarded by negative influences and images through print and TV. It's just nice not to have to worry about what they will hear or what someone will be trying to sell them if they were to have to listen to other types of programming. There is nothing else like K-LOVE available in my listening area. It would be a huge disservice to our community to lose our K-LOVE translator.
